1 Chat and Call Api

Today,I have tested the chat and call api module which is part of plexaar and expert.I will share the postman collection in folder and their flow.

- First we add the contact by using api AddNewContact,which is use to send request from one to other user.
- AcceptRequest Once the request is send this api is use to accept the request.
- getallmessages This api is used to get the all messages after accepting the request and message can be update by using the UpdateNewMessage api by passing the id text not the user id and you want to delete the message then deleteMessageByID api is use to delete the message by passing the text id
- deleteContact It will delete the contact from the both side,if user1 send the request to user2 and they are connected after running the delete api the user1 still be able to see the pending request but it will show nothing to user2.
The issue i have encounter is when we delete the contact than we are unable to connect the same user1 and user2 again.
